

As the Prime Mechanical Contractor on a 20 year contract from the MWRD, IMI will design, build, own, finance, operate and maintain a 150-dry-ton-perday bio-solids drying/pelletization facility that will consist of four identical drying lines. The proposed plant is designed to handle approximately one third of the wet biosolids produced by the Stickney Wastewater Treatment Plant and will produce an EQ/Class A pelletized product.

Owner
Metropolitan Water Reclamation District of Greater Chicago

Client
Veolia North American Water Services

Location
Chicago, IL

Architect
Veolia North America Water Services M

IMI contract amount
$53 million

Completion
2008

